Miami, FL 33199

Join FIU, the Herbert Wertheim College of Medicine, the Department of Emergency Management, and the Florida Department of Health's Florida Advanced Surgical Transport Team as they join forces to create a new exciting partnership for the benefit of South Florida and the entire state. The FIU Florida Advanced Surgical Transport Team (FIU/FAST) is a rapid response critical care team comprised of highly trained medical professionals and supporting staff ready to be deployed following a terrorist attack, natural disaster, or other major incident. FIU/FAST team members will conduct an exercise that will showcase their ability to provide on-site surgical and critical care as well as test the capabilities of working with local emergency medical services to air transport critical care patients to local or regional hospitals.
